Grammatical features all/most languages have in common

Universals

---

- All languages have vowels and consonants
- All languages have nouns and verbs
- All languages have demonstratives

Universals

---

- Some languages indicate grammatical relations by word order, others indicate grammatical relations by morphological means like case suffixes.
- Some languages place all nominal modifiers before the head noun, others place all nominal modifiers after the head noun.

Universals

---

- (1) The man who slept... SUBJ
- (2) The man who(m) I met... OBJ
- (3) The man who I talked about... OBL
- (4) The man whose friend disappeared ... GEN

Universals
